

The Royal College of Speech and Language Therapists (RCSLT), UK

The Royal College of Speech and Language Therapists (RCSLT) was established on 6 January 1945 to promote the art and science of speech and language therapy – the care for individuals with communication, swallowing, eating and drinking difficulties.

The RCSLT is the professional body for speech and language therapists in the UK ; providing leadership and setting professional standards.

We facilitate and promote research into the field of speech and language therapy, promote better education and training of speech and language therapists and provide information for our members and the public about speech and language therapy.

The RCSLT regularly undertakes campaigns on specific issues around speech and language therapy.
