

Presentation of the University and the faculty:

The only complete public university in the Belgian French-speaking community, the University of Liège prides itself on its pluralistic vision and on its pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, and innovation. With a student body numbering 20,000 and a staff of 4300, 2800 of whom are teachers or researchers, the University of Liège offers enriching and diversified courses of study (38 bachelor's, 193 master's, and 68 advanced master's programmes). The University of Liège is fully integrated into the greater European education (Bologna) and research (Lisbon) sphere, and more globally, into the main international scientific networks.

The Faculty of Psychology and Education proposes to future psychologists, speech therapists and educationalists (every year, about 1,500 students) a training characterized by both concern: scientific rigor and diversity of approaches and areas of specialization available.

2. Prerequisites to be able to study in the programme and the yearly intake:

A secondary school-leaving certificate is required to be admitted to the first year of Bachelor programmes. Foreign candidates must hold a certificate that is recognised as conferring the right to be admitted to first-cycle university studies in the French-speaking Community of Belgium. The studies in Speech therapy are subject to special restrictions on admission. More details on http://www.ulg.ac.be/cms/j\_5138/future-student.

3. The content of the studies and the degree:

The Master in Speech therapy is a 5-year program (300 ECTS) which offers to students the opportunity to specialize in areas such as voice disorders, deafness, or disorders of the oral and written language (including neuropsychological aspects).
